

New Zealand Insulators Ltd (NZI) is excited to announce its 100th anniversary.

1924 - 2024

A centenary of quality and service

For 100 years NZI has been operating from our factory and headquarters in Temuka, South Canterbury and more recently, supported by our sales office and distribution centre in Kumeu, Auckland.

NZI has grown to become a leading manufacturer of porcelain insulators in the Southern hemisphere and a supplier of distribution fixtures and fittings across NZ and the Pacific.

Across our 100-year history, insulators have always been the core of our business. Although many among us also fondly remember the era of Temuka Pottery, also an iconic brand that was produced from the same location where NZI insulators are still manufactured today.

We'd love you to join us to commemorate this extraordinary milestone.

Our celebrations will take place throughout the months of January & February 2024 and plans are taking shape for events like; a wine & cheese evening on February 23rd, and an exclusive dinner for staff and invited guests on February 24th.

We will also be running tours of our NZI Temuka factory and coordinating a Temuka Pottery exhibition to be held in Temuka during the same period, providing an historical perspective on NZI and Temuka Pottery over the past century.

We're inviting expressions of interest.
